March the 19, 1865 Oil Creek, Perry Co. Ind.

Dear husband I seat myself to try to write a few lines to you to let you know that we are well at present hoping they will come safe to hand and find you well and hearty and also your comefades Now Clark this is a hard task for a woman to undertake to write to a husband when she has not heard a word from him for 2 months past. I have thought I never could undergo such things but I find the Scriptures true. We must run with th patience the race that is set before us so if it be a hard one it requires the more patience to endure it. The weather is beginning to get warm here but it snows occasionally yet tho the peaches is not killed yet. John is going to begin sowing our oats in the morning. He rented it. I find the seed and get half. They are to be divided in the shock and some by the bushel. I have sold 10 bushel of them oats for seven dollare and a half. The last letter I wrote to you I told you that Nathan Jamison was drafted but just as I had sent my letter to the office he came to our house. I do did not know him. Johnny soon made up with him as he does with every strange man he sees. He give him 5 dollars when he started home. He give Nancy Ellen and Mary Ann 5 a piece. He came off the draft list between the enrollment and the draft. We have just got a letter from Uncle Grahah. He is in very bad health mostly caused from trouble I guess. He sayes he has sacrificed two noble sons on the altar of their country and is willing to give all rather than see a star fall from the old flag. He thinks Sam is with Sherman but he is in the hospital with the small poeks. James Jenkins and Sim Shirecliff deaths have come in the newspaper. I am very sorrow to hear of it as he leaves a help-less family. Your pap is able to knock around a little now
